LETTER IS TO FOLLOW

No Official Word Has Been Received From Berlin

That Dr. Hill is "Personæ Non Grata" to Emperor of Germany.

Berlin, March 27.—Germany has put it up to United States Ambassador Tower to do all the explaining for the statement cabled to Washington that Dr. David Jayne Hill is not acceptable to Berlin as his successor. When the first news leaked out that Washington had been told Hill "wouldn't do," the foreign office issued a statement saying he was entirely satisfactory to the German government. This still left the question open, whether the Kaiser hadn't said something personally to justify the message to America. The foreign office today absolutely denied that Wilhelm ever objected or objected now to Dr. Hill. Tower answered today that he will resign in a few months. The Berlin gossip is that he has had a friendly "up" from Washington that he must resign or be recalled.

Washington, March 27.—No official explanation has yet been vouchsafed of the news which came to the state department yesterday from Chancellor Tower, the American ambassador at Berlin, that Dr. David Jayne Hill, former assistant secretary of state, and now minister to The Hague, would not be acceptable to the Kaiser as Tower's successor.

The ambassador's meager cable announcement is to be supplemented by a letter, though it is regarded as very singular that the mail, instead of the cable, should be used in such an important matter, and Secretary Root is showing decided symptoms of impatience.

The impression at the state department is that Mr. Tower has committed a faux pas and there is apparently a disposition to hold him responsible for the embarrassment that has been caused not only to Dr. Hill, but to the President himself, for it was he who announced Hill's promotion after the German government had signified that the former assistant secretary would be acceptable. It was only after Mr. Tower had asked to be relieved from his post that the President picked Hill as his successor. But now, it is suspected, Tower has changed his mind about relinquishing his place, and this brought on the present annoying complication.

Emperor William is exceedingly fond of the present ambassador, and the theory advanced at the state department is that he persuaded him to abandon his plan to resign to the United States, and this necessitated the creation of an excuse to forestall Dr. Hill's transfer to Berlin.

The alleged objection to him is traced back to the time of the visit to Washington of Prince Henry of Prussia, the Kaiser's brother, although nothing specific has yet been revealed. The statement issued yesterday by the German foreign office that it is absolutely false that Hill is personæ non grata appears to bear out the department's theory although final judgment may have to be suspended. But in view of the embarrassments of the situation it would not be surprising if neither Messrs. Tower nor Hill could represent the United States at the Berlin court in the near future.

To say that the secretary of state and the President are perplexed put it mildly. In fact, they are simply dumbfounded by the turn affairs have taken. They have no official statement from the German foreign office or the Kaiser, and they have only the brief message from Ambassador Tower, transmitting the information that the Kaiser objects to Dr. Hill. Even Ambassador Tower does not go into particulars and satisfied himself with the announcement that a letter follows.

ment that Dr. Hill has been accepted; that his acceptance has never been withdrawn, and the German government is willing and anxious to receive him as ambassador.

To add to the confusion the fact remains that the German emperor is out of his kingdom. In Corfu, and cannot be reached through the usual channels with any degree of haste.

Diligent inquiry among those who accompanied Prince Henry on his tour of America in 1902, upon which tour Dr. Hill was the official representative of the state department, fails to disclose any action by Dr. Hill to which exception could be taken.

Paris, March 27.—In the absence of official confirmation, David Jayne Hill declined yesterday to credit or discredit the report that the German government had changed its original attitude and refused to receive the ambassador. The only information he received yesterday on the subject was a private telegram from Berlin, saying that the German foreign office had flatly denied that any official action had been taken. Minister Hill is considerably mystified by the whole circumstances, as he is aware of nothing at The Hague conference or during Prince Henry's visit to Washington, that could form a basis for objection to him as American ambassador. After Prince Henry's visit to Washington the Prince presented to Mr. Hill, who was then assistant secretary of state, a large photograph of himself, inscribed with his autograph as a testimonial of thanks.

TROOPS ARE ORDERED OUT

Seattle, Wash., March 27.—Troops have been ordered from Ft. Seward, at Haines, Alaska, to preserve order at the Treadwell mines on Douglas Island, where 800 miners are out on a strike.

WATER GRAFT IN CHICAGO

BELIEVED THAT LOSS TO CITY WILL REACH TO FULLY TEN MILLIONS.

Scores of Employees Discharged and Entire Reconstruction of System Necessary.

Chicago, March 27.—With today's disclosures of a water works scandal it is believed that the total loss to the city through the water graft will reach $10,000,000. The graft extends over five years and consists of padded pay rolls and huge frauds in bills for water consumed, made possible by water works employees working with consumers. Scores of employees have been discharged and an entire reconstruction of the system, at a cost of $18,000,000 may be necessary.

EARTHQUAKE SHOCKS FELT

MANY ADOBE HOUSES SHAKEN DOWN BY VIBRATIONS IN MEXICO.

Theater Crowds Become Panic Stricken and Clocks Throughout the City Were Stopped.

Mexico City, March 27.—Reports today from the surrounding country, show damage from two earthquake shocks yesterday. Many adobe houses were shaken down by the vibrations, which were felt over an area of 500 miles from north to south. It is feared great damage was done in the extreme northern part of the republic, near the Rio Grande border. It is stated that houses in Mier and Arroyo were razed. The last shock caused theater crowds to be panic-stricken. Clocks were stopped in all parts of the city. The needle of the seismograph traveled the entire distance of the dial.

SERVIAN'S

Bind and Rob a Man of $45 at New Lexington Yesterday—Police on Lookout.

About 7 o'clock last night Chief Zergiebel received a telephone message from the sheriff at New Lexington asking the police here to be on the lookout for three Servians, who assaulted and bound a man and robbed him of $45. The descriptions of the three men were furnished, and the night patrolmen were instructed to look for the trio. The chief has a good idea as to their identity though they are said to have gone in the direction of Columbus.

EXAMINERS AT WORK

Sum Keeps Growing and May Run Up to $2,000,000

Thought That Loss Will Not Affect the Bank's Solvency.

Pittsburg, Pa., March 27.—Charging specific stealing of $1,105,000, two additional informations were made this afternoon against Henry Reiber and John Young, defaulting teller and auditor respectively of the Farmers' Deposit National Bank. The bank examiner now believes that a closer inspection will show the Farmers' bank steal one of the largest in the history of the country and it is said the losses may reach two millions.

Pittsburg, March 27.—It is not believed here that any further prosecutions will grow out of the peculations of Henry Reiber and John Young, former paying teller and auditor of the Farmers' Deposit National Bank. The actual loss as shown in suits already filed amounts to over $300,000. National Bank Examiner Fold, who, with a corps of accountants, said today that he did not believe the loot secured from the bank would amount to more than $400,000. Others, however, who claim to be in a position to know, place the losses as high as $1,000,000. Even if the loss totals $1,000,000 it is not believed it will affect the bank's solvency.

Washington, March 27.—It is unofficially stated here that Frank B. Kellogg of Minnesota, is slated to succeed Justice Harlan of the United States Supreme bench. It is stated that Justice Harlan will retire in May, having reached 75 years, after 31 years' service on the bench. Kellogg won favor from Roosevelt in the trust busting cases.

Good Things Urged by President Can Be Passed if He Can Secure the Necessary Republican Votes.

Washington, March 27.—Representative John Sharp Williams of Mississippi, as leader of the minority in the house of representatives, last night issued a statement defining the attitude of the Democratic party in the house toward legislation urged by President Roosevelt in his messages to Congress at the present session. He says: "Some things in the President's recent message are so immediately important to the interests of the entire country as to pass the bounds of partisanship. In so far as the things urged by the President are good things, I would like the country to know that all he has to do is to deliver 29 or 25 Republican house votes in favor of them. These, conjoined with the solid Democratic votes, will put them through."

HOUSE PASSES RESOLUTION FOR THE TAX AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION

Columbus, March 27.—The electors of Ohio must now determine whether the system of dealing with the big problem of taxation, as it has stood for more than 50 years, shall be abandoned to make way for taxation reform.

The House of Representatives last night tabled the motion to reconsider the vote which passed the Gayman resolution, proposing a far reaching amendment to the constitution. Passed by the Senate with votes to spare, the resolution received a bare majority of one more vote than was necessary in the House. The necessary votes in the lower branch were secured after diligent work during the progress of roll call.

The proposed amendment finally endorsed by both branches, will go before the people at the regular election next November. It is one of the most important amendments to the organic law of the state that has ever been prepared for submission. It was urged upon the legislature by Governor Harris. The governor based his recommendation upon the report of a special commission named by him to study the taxation question. The Ohio state board of commerce has taken the question up and will be a factor in urging its favorable consideration at the polls.

It is proposed in the amendment to enlarge the powers of the General Assembly, giving the legislative branch the authority to classify property for taxation purposes. In the exact form in which it will go before the people the resolution provides that Section 2 of article 12 of the constitution shall read as follows:

THE PROPOSED AMENDMENT.
"The General Assembly shall have the power to establish and maintain an equitable system for raising state and local revenue. It may classify the subjects of taxation so far as their differences justify the same in order to secure a just return from each. All taxes and other charges shall be imposed for public expenses only. Bonds of the state of Ohio, bonds of any city, village, hamlet, county or township in this state, and bonds issued on behalf of the public schools of Ohio and the means of instruction in connection herewith, burying grounds, public school houses, houses, used exclusively for public worship, institutions of purely public charity, public property used exclusively for public purposes and personal property to an amount not exceeding $200 in value for each individual, may, by general law, be exempted from taxation. All such laws shall be subject to alteration or repeal. The value of all property exempted shall, from time to time, be ascertained and published as may be directed by law. All taxes and exemptions in force when this amendment is adopted shall remain in force unless and until otherwise directed by statute."

Enlarging Your Business

for charity, or do you advertise for direct results?

Did you ever stop to think how your advertising can be made a source of profit to you, and how its value can be measured in dollars and cents. If you have not, you are throwing money away.

Advertising is a modern business necessity, but must be conducted on business principles. If you are not satisfied with your advertising you should set aside a certain amount of money to be spent annually, and then carefully note the effect it has in increasing your volume of business; whether a 10, 20 or 30 per cent increase. If you watch this gain from year to year you will become intensely interested in your advertising, and how you can make it enlarge your business.

If you try this method we believe you will not want to let a single issue of this paper go to press without something from your store.

We will be pleased to have you call on us, and we will take pleasure in explaining our annual contract for so many inches, and how it can be used in whatever amount that seems necessary to you.

If you can sell goods over the counter we can also show you why this paper will best serve your interests when you want to reach the people of this community.

FIFTH

Ballot Nominated
Marshall for Gov.
Of Indiana

BRYAN WAS INDORSED

Thos. Taggart Re-elected Member of National Committee

The Nominee for Governor is a Wonderful Orator and Known
All Over State.

Indianapolis, March 27.—A quiet meeting of the delegates to the Democratic National Convention was held at the Grand Hotel last night. Thomas Taggart was re-elected member of the National Committee from this state. He received 24 of the 30 votes. John Kern was chairman of the meeting. It was the understanding that the National Committeeman would not be elected until the delegates went to Denver.

Indianapolis, March 27.—Thomas H. Marshall of Columbia City was nominated for governor by the Democratic State convention on the fifth ballot, Thursday afternoon.

His nearest competitor was L. Ert Slack of Franklin, who made one of the gamest fights ever seen in a convention.

Marshall's nomination was not particularly satisfactory to the machine. The Taggart-Ralston men accepted him after he had been forced on them. It was Marshall or Slack, and the former was least distasteful to them.

The Taggart delegates made Marshall's nomination possible, but they did not rejoice at the way they had to use the power that was theirs. The Slack supporters have nothing against Marshall, but his nomination is not as much of an anti-Taggart victory as they would have.

A platform was adopted which met the unanimous approval of the delegates. The National delegates were instructed for Bryan and a resolution advocating the nomination of John W. Kern for vice president.

Thomas R. Marshall of Columbia City who was nominated for Governor by the Indiana Democrats yesterday, is known from one end of the state to the other as a prominent attorney and wonderful orator. He has not mixed in the rough-and-tumble political game, and on that account is not identified with any faction. He has been regarded as the logical candidate by his standing in his profession, his scholarly attainments and his great oratorical gifts. The Democratic leaders are confident that the Republicans have no one in their party who can surpass Marshall as a campaign speaker. Marshall has his plans of battle well defined. He expects to make speeches in every county, and to rouse the masses to the importance of the issues of the campaign.

BOY MAYOR'S FIRST WEDDING.

Delaware, March 27.—To the music of bells and the throwing of rice, Mayor Haas, Delaware's "boy mayor," concluded his first marriage ceremony Thursday afternoon. The couple were Miss Alta Shoemaker and Mr. Curtis Santee, both of Stratford, and the ceremony was performed in front of the table which has so often acted as a bar of justice. The city officials, firemen, policemen and a number of others sent the couple away from the city hall with one of the merriest chimes in Delaware's recent history.

BRYAN AND HARMON GUESTS OF HONOR

Kansas City, March 27.—The Young Men's Democratic Club banquet is to be held here on Monday night next. W. J. Bryan and Judson Harmon of Cincinnati will be the guests of honor. Many other prominent Democrats will be present. Places for four ex-governors of Missouri—Decker, Stone, Francis and Crittenden—along with Governor Folk have been reserved at the guest table.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS

Cheap Substitutes, and "Just As Good As."

Unscrupulous dealers, mindful only of profit and caring nothing for the health of their patrons, are offering for sale low-grade, impure whiskey, which they tell you is as "good as Duffy's."

It is a cheap concoction and fraud, intended to deceive the people. Of course, when a remedy has been before the public so long, has been prescribed and used by the best doctors and in all the prominent hospitals, and has carried the blessing of health into so many thousands of homes as DUFFY'S PURE MALT WHISKEY has, imitations are bound to arise. But they can imitate the bottle and label only—no one can imitate the contents.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey is an absolutely pure distillation of malted grain; great care being used to have every kernel thoroughly malted, thus destroying the germ and producing a predigested liquid food in the form of a malt essence, which is the most effective tonic stimulant and invigorator known to science; softened by warmth and moisture, its palatability and freedom from injurious substances render it so that it can be retained by the most sensitive stomach.

Any firm that will imitate or substitution goods will sell impure drugs. The firm that is dishonest in one thing would not hesitate to be dishonest in another. Whenever you see imitation and substitution goods offered for sale by a firm, beware of anything and everything put up by that firm. You endanger your own life and the lives of your family and friends by dealing with them.

BEWARE OF FRAUDS! Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

is sold in sealed bottles only—never in bulk. A facsimile of the genuine bottle, full size, is printed here so that you may easily recognize it. It is our own patented bottle—round, amber colored, and with the name "Duffy's Malt Whiskey Company" blown into the glass. The trademark—the Old Chemist's Head—is on the label, and over the cork there is an engraved paper seal. Be certain this seal is not broken.

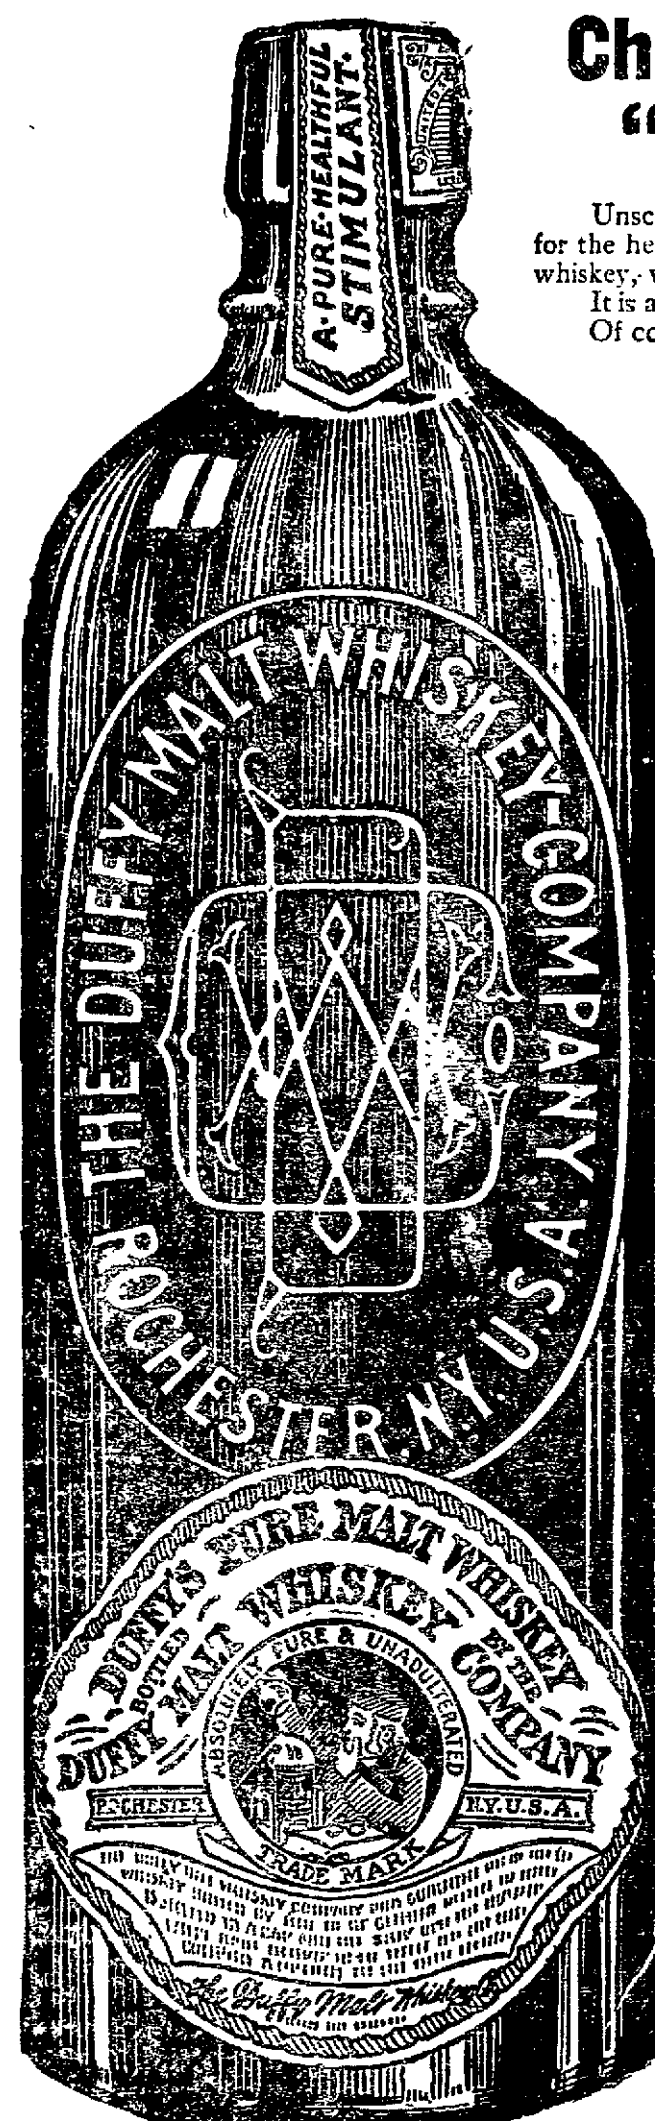

REFUSE IMITATIONS AND SUBSTITUTES

When you ask for DUFFY'S PURE MALT WHISKEY be sure you get the genuine which is the only absolutely pure malt whiskey containing medicinal, health-giving qualities. Imitations and substitutes, far from relieving the sick, are positively harmful. Demand DUFFY'S, and be sure you get it. Be on your guard against refilled bottles.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey promotes health and longevity,

CIRCUIT COURT DECIDES CASE

DECLARES JUDGE BRISTER HAD NO RIGHT TO COMMIT BOY TO CHILDREN'S HOME.

Bound Over to Probate Court for Practicing Without State Certificate—Court Notes.

The case of the State of Ohio ex rel E. M. P. Brister vs. John C. Kreig, Rice Emerson, James E. Jones, E. T. Rugg and Geo. R. Taylor, came on for hearing to the Circuit judges. Plaintiff asks for a mandamus. The controversy arises over an order made by the Probate court in reference to the commitment to the Children's Home of Ralph Roberts. Relator says that the boy was examined by a physician and found to be in all respects in such condition as to bring him under the provisions of the laws of Ohio regulating the admissibility and eligibility of children to such institutions.

Relator says that the sheriff delivered Roberts to the defendant Kreig, superintendent of the Licking County Children's Home, but that Kreig refused to accept the child. Plaintiff says that he is advised and believes that Kreig is acting through the orders of the other defendants, the trustees. Plaintiff asks for an order commanding the defendants to receive the child into the Home.

An answer has been filed by the defendants in which, among other things they allege that the Probate court informed the superintendent, that he, the judge, intended to send said child to said home to be kept subject to the control of plaintiff, and the defendants aver that they had and have no authority to receive said child except they have the full and undisputed control and right to bind out the child by indenture and contract; and that said plaintiff, having refused to concede said right, and having sent the boy to the home under such conditions, the defendants refused to receive him. Defendants ask that the petition be dismissed or if that is not done, that no relief be granted until they have had full opportunity to investigate this case, so that they may learn whether the boy is a proper person to be admitted to the home; they ask that they be given full control of the child, free from the control of the plaintiff.

The Circuit court held that, under the statute, the Probate court had no authority to commit the child to the Licking County Children's Home, and in effect, holding that the Probate court has no authority, under the Juvenile Act, to commit any child to that institution. Judge Brister will carry the case to the Supreme court. Kibler & Montgomery, Flory & Flory.

For Practicing Without Certificate.

The case of Ohio vs. Dr. A. A. Taylor, was tried before Justice Holton Friday, and the defendant was bound over to the Probate court in the sum of $300. The case was brought by D. Darke, who claims that he took treatment of Dr. Taylor, believing him to be a regular physician; that Taylor afterwards told him that he had no state certificate and did not have to have one. The action was brought claiming it to be a violation of the statute prohibiting the use of "Dr." and "Doctor," under circumstances that would lead the public to believe that the user was a regular practitioner of medicine and surgery. The attorneys are Russell & Horner for the prosecution and Smythe & Smythe for the defense. It is understood that both sides desire a speedy trial in the Probate court to test the matter. Foreign counsel will probably assist both sides at the trial.

Juvenile Court.

The two cases, the State of Ohio vs. J. W. Allen and Earl Allen were heard in the Juvenile court this afternoon by Judge Brister.

Earl Allen, 12 years of age, is charged with habitual truancy, and his father was charged with neglect in sending him to school. The testimony of Supt. Simkins and Truant Officer Jones showed that Earl had only been to school about one-fourth of the time this year, and that he could give no lawful excuse.

The court adjudged him a habitual truant and ordered him sent to the Boys' Industrial school at Lancaster, but suspended the sentence during good behavior. He was warned that the first complaint would send him to Lancaster.

The father, J. W. Allen, was also charged with permitting his boy to sell intoxicating liquors across the bar in his saloon in the East End. He pleaded guilty to the charge and the court sentenced him to 30 days in the county jail. Owing to the fact, however, that he was the father of a large family of small children, the sentence was suspended during good behavior, but he was warned that the first violation would mean that the sentence would be enforced. Mr. Allen was also warned that he should see that the boy is kept in school, and this he promised to do.

NEW MILLINERY SHOP

MRS. J. R. ROBERTSON OPENS
FINELY APPOINTED PARLORS ON EAST MAIN ST.

Has Everything Stylish in Headgear and Opening Days are Friday and Saturday.

The new millinery shop of Mrs. J. R. Robertson at 70 East Main street, opened up for business this morning, with a beautiful display of spring and summer headgear.

While the quarters are not large this is one of the most complete and up to date establishments in the city. The color effects throughout are in green. Handsome rugs cover the floor and the fittings are modern and up to date.

Mrs. Robertson is a milliner of long experience and her lines include all that is absolutely correct in taste and style. She makes a specialty of Gage and Holland hats, and some particularly stunning things were noticed in her beautiful display. A Gage hat of white chip with band of forget-me-nots and Persian ribbon is a beauty, as is a model in leghorn with a mass of orchids, two immense pink roses and a choux of blue ribbon.

Another pretty Gage is of white Milan braid faced in black and trimmed in yellow, white and black daisies. One of pink tulle with three pink ostrich feathers, high crown, with shirred bands of the tulle is surely most attractive.

Mrs. Robertson's opening days are today and Saturday, and she will be pleased to have you call and inspect the beautiful line of women and children's headgear.

Her location is 70 East Main, just west of the Licking Light and Power company.

WHITE COAL IN KENTUCKY.

Deposit Found in Mountains of McLean County.

McLean county, Ky., is the scene of the latest discovery of natural freaks in the finding of a vein of white coal.

It was discovered on the farm of a man who lives near Wrightsburg and who proposes to form a company and open a slope mine. A minister of Madisonville has returned from conducting revival services in the mountains with several specimens of the mineral.

It is of a white color and very light, leaving neither soot nor cinders after burning, and makes red ashes resembling those of a wood fire.

Odd Railroad Test.

People along the eastern division of the Boston and Maine railroad have been treated to a peculiar sight for the last few days as they observed a man riding on the engine of train No. 29. Standing on a little platform surrounded by a sheet of canvas to break the wind, he rode near the smokestack back and forth to Portsmouth every day. The company has been making a test of a smoke burning apparatus and trying to find out just how much water and coal are consumed for each mile of the trip and also recording the speed of the engine made on varying steam pressure. In the cab have been two other men, known as inspectors, taking a record of the work done by the fireman in handling the fire of the locomotive during round trips.

Influence of Color.

There cannot be any more delightful harmonies made in wall paper than those provided by nature in her own garb. One may start with the brown of the earth and run into several shades of green, from that touch upon yellow and from yellow to orange, from orange to red, and red to violet and violet to the blue of the sky.

Green and yellow are really common to all nature tints and blue is the color reflected from the heavens. As all houses are subject to the north or south light, the colors must be used to suit this distribution and thus it is that the ceiling and upper parts of a wall require more white where more light is required.

Colors are said to have a great influence on the senses and temperament. Smallpox is subject to the "red room" treatment, and it is a well known fact that it reduces irritation in cutaneous diseases to exclude blue and violet shades from the room. In a recently published article in Paris it recited instances of blue and violet being used in nervous disorders and of where red was used for "melancholia." Every one is susceptible to color. Let us help you in choosing.

Yours for correct wall coverings.

BOWER OF BEAUTY

IS THE HOOVER MILLINERY
STORE IN THE MEMORIAL BUILDING.

Decorations Are Superb and Headgear of All Descriptions is Artistically Displayed.

The women will be indeed hard to please who cannot find becoming hats at Anna L. Hoover's, the Auditorium Millinery store.

Such a bower of loveliness is not often to be found even in the large cities. Even the sterner sex are not able to pass her display window without a lingering look. A costly Japanese vase filled with gorgeous American beauty roses enhances, if possible, the beauty of the exquisite headgear displayed. There are hats that are perfect dreams in pink, in blue, and in white tulle with garnitures of lovely flowers and plumes. A large Lechona model with three white plumes and band of gold and white is as elegant simplicity itself, while a turban of hyacinths and pink roses was superb.

The interior is equally as attractive. Many new fittings have been added this spring. Huge potted ferns lend a touch of the beauty of nature while plush new mahogany chairs scattered throughout the room add to the comfort of the anxious shoppers. Handsome new all plate glass floor cases show to the best advantage the beauty of the hats and flowers that fill them—truly a beautiful symphony of the most exquisite coloring imaginable.

Mrs. Hoover makes a specialty of the famous Gage hats and they are there in profusion. The woman fortunate enough to secure one of these can afford to feel complacently correct. "The Merry Widow" sailor is in evidence, as are sailors of all shapes. In fact, the hats are more becoming than as to color and shape than for many seasons—or that is the general opinion of the hundreds of women visiting the store yesterday and today. The opening will continue all during tomorrow. Even if you don't intend to buy a hat, don't miss the opportunity of seeing this array of loveliness.

Nell—"I never knew a girl so indifferent to the opinion of others." Belle—"That's right. She won't even let about her age."

BUCKINGHAM

Released From Jail Wednesday, is Arrested For the Theft of a Bicycle.

The police pulled off some more quick work this afternoon in a minor case when Officers Callan and Carroll arrested Harry Buckingham for the theft of a bicycle. Ten minutes after the officers had been notified that Buckingham was wanted he was in the patrol on his way to the city prison.

Harry, who was just released from the county jail on Wednesday, borrowed a bicycle from Thomas Roberts saying he wanted to ride to East Newark. Instead he rode to a second hand dealer's and sold the wheel for $1.50. When the officers were notified he looked for him in his usual haunts and finally found him near a saloon on South Second street.

No longer the war ships ride at anchor in the harbor of Port au Prince the more conciliatory becomes the attitude of the Haitian Government. No more butcheries. Everything quiet. Refugees recovering their composure and permitted to emigrate. Gunpowder persuasion is a wonderful thing.

The shot aimed at the Pulp Trust by President Roosevelt is straight from the shoulder. The tariff duty is the prop which sustains the inquiry. OHIO MOUNDBUILDERS

E. O. Randall Author of Treatise on Prehistoric Remains.

Columbus, March 27—"Old Mound-builders" is the title of the latest work of E. O. Randall, secretary of the Ohio Archaeological and Historical society and reporter of the Supreme court. In this volume Mr. Randall has attempted no technical or scientific explanation of the mound formations in the state, but has rather given a clear and comprehensive account of his own researches among the relics left by the prehistoric inhabitants. The book is thus of much value and interest to a great many who, previous to this time have not had opportunity of looking into the subject.

The present volume deals with the fortifications and hilltop refuges of the Moundbuilders, while at a later date Mr. Randall promises another treatise descriptive of the lowland mounds and enclosures.

RURAL ROUTERS

Requested to Purchase Stamps in Larger Quantities to Save Carriers Much Inconvenience.

The postoffice department has issued a request to patrons of the rural delivery lines that stamps be purchased in larger quantities to avoid inconvenience and delay to the carriers by requiring them to collect small sums of stamp money from the boxes.

There has always been more or less inconvenience caused rural carriers by the system of small stamp sales, whereby patrons will wish to purchase two or three stamps and will deposit the money in the box, perhaps in cent pieces. In cold weather this is particularly troublesome to the carriers as it necessitates the removal of their gloves and causes them to be delayed while fumbling through the boxes.

Blood Humors

Affect the whole system and cause most diseases and ailments. Eliminate them by taking

RECEIVED DEMOCRATIC NOMINATION FOR REPRESENTATIVE.

Harry L. Goodbread of Nevada, recently received the Democratic nomination for representative from Wyandot county. Mr. Goodbread is a splendid young gentleman of scholarly attainments and is eminently qualified to fill the important legislative duties. As the county is safely Democratic his election is almost assured. He is a graduate of the Ann Arbor school of law, and has also been connected with the state department of the Central Union telephone company. He has many friends in this city who extend felicitations over his recent success.

HAPPY SCRIBE

CAPTURES ONE OF MARION'S CHARMING YOUNG MISSES RECENTLY.

Kept the Secret, but Dan Cupid Would Not "Stand For It," and It Leaks Out.

Knights of the pen will now and then spring surprises on each other in spite of the fact that they become so hardened to surprises that they scarcely know what it means. The latest example of a subsidized cupid and a wide awake reporter has just come to light through the inquisitiveness of a rival scribe.

Charles T. Weaver, whose home is in this city, but who is a valued member of the reportorial staff of the Marion (O.) Star got to fooling around cupid and became entangled in the delightful net of matrimony. Miss Marie Stuart Darmody, a charming young lady of Marion, was the bride. They met, they loved, they wed. And they didn't tell anybody. They said they wouldn't tell until after Easter, only an alert reporter on the Marion Mirror got busy to discover the cause of Mr. Weaver's absence from the staff of the Star. He found out that Mr. Weaver and Miss Darmody had been married for some time. Then, he couldn't keep a good story back, so he printed it in the Mirror on last Friday.

Everybody was greatly surprised to see how well the scribe kept his secret and when the excitement reached a high pitch, Mr. and Mrs. Weaver divulged the whole story.

Mr. and Mrs. Weaver came to Newark this week and will spend a couple of weeks with the parents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert F. Hull, of 185 West Main street, after which they will return to Marion and make their future home there where the scribe will continue to grind out "dope" for the star.

Mr. Weaver has hosts of friends in this city who extend their very best wishes to the bride and groom.

Unpardonable.

POLICE COURT

Cleared For Action and Three Offenders Are Up—Two Ordered Out of Town.

Sam Charleston, a horseman and a gentleman of color from Cincinnati, was loitering around this morning at 4:55, and Officer Petercy, thinking he was out rather late, nabbed him and sent him down to the "honev cooler". The man was given a suspended sentence of $1 and costs and ordered out of town.

A Granville man well known in the village was disorderly at Kuster's restaurant last night, and was arrested by Officer Herbaugh. He was fined $1 and costs this morning, and failing to pay was committed.

Robert Barton, another colored man, who was ordered out of town yesterday, failed to go, and was hunting trouble at a saloon when he was taken in tow by Officers Hager, Callan and Carroll. He was given a suspended sentence of $5 and costs this morning, and ordered to leave Newark by noon. If caught again the sentence and a few days will be handed him.

RUN DOWN--TIRED

Newark People Who Are in This Condition Are Asked to Read This Article.

There are many people in this vicinity at this season of the year who are all run down, no strength—hardly able to drag about. Don't know what ails them.

We want to say to every such person that our cod liver preparation, Vinol, is the tonic reconstructor which they need. Vinol tones up the digestive organs, creates a healthy appetite, makes rich red blood, and strengthens every organ in the body to do its work. In this natural manner strength and vitality quickly replace weakness and lassitude.

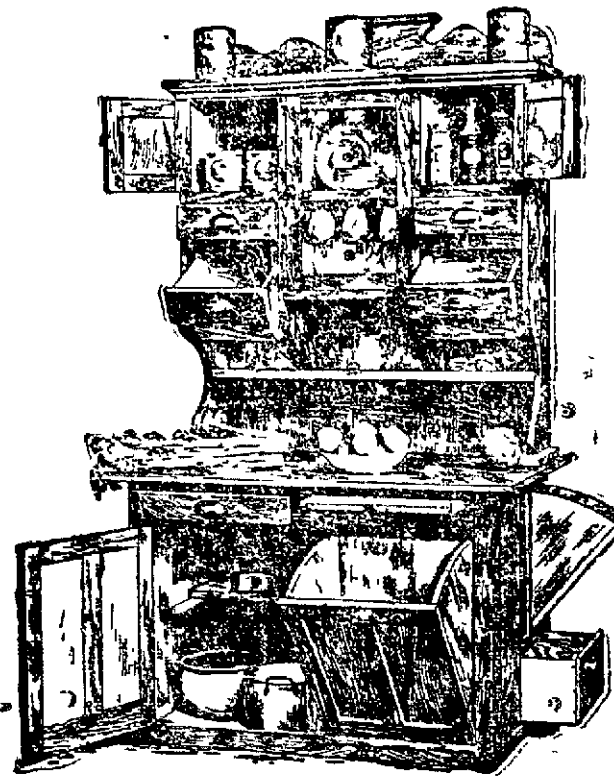

Miss Rose Blair, president Sophomore club, Kansas City, writes: "Last spring I was all run down, nervous, irritable and could not sleep. I tried many medicines without benefit. Vinol was recommended. It was delicious and not at all like the greasy cod liver oil and emulsions I was used to. Vinol gave me a hearty appetite and restored me to perfect health and strength."

Vinol is recognized throughout the world as an unexcelled strength creator for old people, weak, sickly women, delicate children and the convalescent.

Try Vinol on our offer to return money if it fails to give satisfaction. Frank D. Hall, druggist, Newark.

The wise man is thankful for what he has and for a lot of things he hasn't.

IN THE FIELD OF SPORTS

MARVELOUS

Girl Pitcher Will be on the Road this Season—A Wonder of the Day. Holds World's Record.

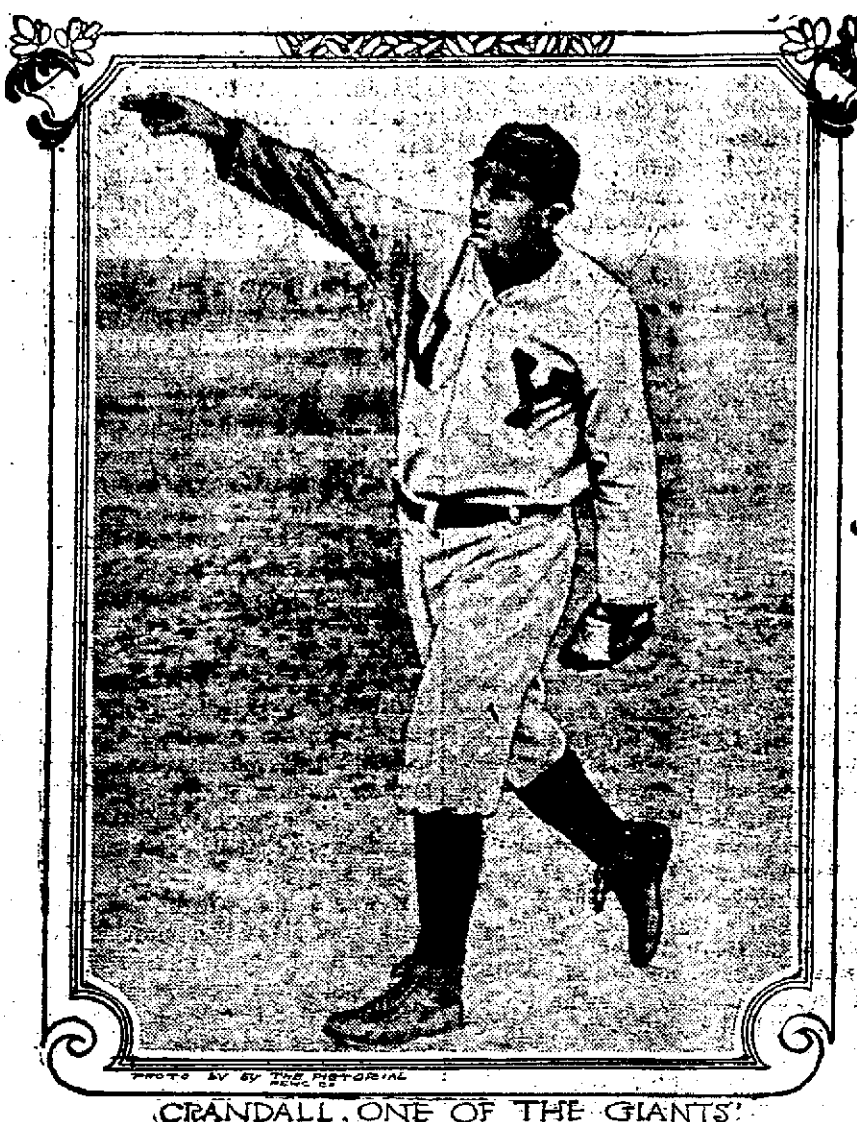

Miss Alta Weiss, the girl twirler that made many a fan marvel at her speed and control last season when she shot the horseshoe across the plate, is again to be on the road this year, under the management of C. A. Heldlof of Cleveland, former manager of the Vermillion Independents. Dr. George Weiss, father of the feminine wonder, is the owner and financial backer of the team that will make a tour this season and later in the year the girl phenom may be seen in action in Newark. She holds the women's world record for throwing a baseball, she having thrown it 230 feet and four inches.

In the games when the girl pitches she will demonstrate her ability in throwing the ball long distances. The manager of the team is now busy scheduling games for the coming season.

BASKETBALL BANQUET.

On Tuesday evening the Denison chapter of Beta Theta Pi gave an elaborate banquet in honor of the Denison basketball team, which has just closed a very successful season. After dinner toasts were responded to by Prof. Chamberlin, Harry Pine, Lee Moore, and Walter Livingston. The members of the team who were present: Pine, Rodgers, Dockwood, Flack, Livingston, Greene, Brown, Little and Moore.

In their victory over the Austin College baseball team by a score of 12 to 3, at Sherman, Texas, the New York Giants used one man who did unusually good work. He was Crandall, one of the new pitchers, who struck out 11 opposing batsmen.

QUINN

"Calling" on the Cities in His League—Things All O. K.—Newark Enthusiastic.

Marion, March 27.—President Robert Quinn of the Ohio State league, called upon the local baseball magnates Thursday. The president told the directors that he expects to see a great race in the Ohio State league this year. He says that at Newark and Lancaster, enthusiasm is at fever heat. At Springfield the fans are falling into line and Ransick will have all the "boosting" needed to help him along. Mansfield and Lima are keeping pace with the rest of the cities.

Mr. Quinn was highly pleased with the situation here and he will probably be in Marion to attend the opening game. He went from here to Lima to call on Manager Clarke.

PRESS AGENTS

For Ball Players May be New Wrinkle in the Near Future. Why Not?

We predict that in a few years we will see ball players engaging press agents, like any actor or actress. And why not? Baseball is progressing so rapidly that it would be nothing surprising if Ty Cobb employed a man just to make up wonderful stories about him. "Ty Cobb Rescues Beautiful Girl," "Ty Cobb a Hero," "Smashed by Cobb," and the like.

Wouldn't it be a good medium to attract the people with? Not saying that there are more than plenty to go to games now, and do go, but this method might win over a good many people who would go to a game only out of curiosity to see somebody that had a little fame, and to his person. We say in about two years. Watch it!

DOPE FOR FANS

Heroic efforts were necessary to keep Catcher McLean of the Reds from getting in bad with the National combination. McLean signed an outlaw contract, repeated and then Manager Ganzel succeeded in having the document destroyed before the outlaws could promulgate it.

If Erie is signing a baseball team for North Girard, Oriental-like mystery shrouds the club's movements. Neither in Secretary Farrell's bulletins nor in Erie papers has there been one word of a player accepting terms or signing a contract. So far as is known Erie has not even got a manager.

Manager O'Day of the Marion team arrived in that city and took charge of affairs Thursday. He is from the west.

Charley Hickman declares third base is the easiest position on the nine to play, and Happy has played them all. Mansfield will have practically a new team in the Ohio State league this season. There will be an entire new outfield and but one new face in the infield. Two pitchers will be taken from the new recruits while a new catcher is also among the possibilities. Biery is the only veteran on the infield.

Baseball managers are little talked of now. It's the youngster who is in the lime-light. The manager will get his in the fall when fans discover that he has lost the flag.

Objection to organized rooting does not mean that fans are to be curtailed in their natural right of roasting the umpire. That still will go.

Reports from the golden west say that Comiskey's White Sox cleaned up $10,000 in their practice games. That will buy another houseboat for the Old Roman.

Connie Mack says his salary list is $6,000. That's no cheap outfit, if it true.

The Tigers have leased the training grounds at Hot Springs for a period of five years.

Curt Elston has failed to make a hit in three games with the Cubs.

Rain and high winds are interfering with the Naps' practice at Macon.

SEASON

Tickets for Ladies and Gentlemen are Now on Sale—Fans Should Offer Support.

The ladies' season tickets for the ball games at Wehrle park have been issued and should sell rapidly to the fair supporters of the Newark team. The tickets, which sell at $2.25, are good for the entire season on Monday and Friday, with the exception of Labor Day. These tickets admit the holder to the park and also to a seat in the grand stand. Young ladies will sell the tickets, and the fair fans should give their support to the team in this way.

The season tickets for gentlemen will sell for $15.50 and will admit the holder to 75 games. At the regular price of admission this would amount to $18.75, so by the ticket method the purchaser saves $3.25. While this will save the fans money, yet it will be an evidence of support for the team, and one which will be appreciated.

WANTS TRYOUT.

Secretary Hopkins today received a letter from Herman Manning, Wilmington, Del., who wants to tryout for first sack or outfield. He writes that he has played in three teams in the Tri-State league. They will not use him here.

BALL PARK

In Best of Condition—Diamond Being Rolled Today—In Tip Top Shape.

When the boys report for practice next week they will find the grounds in Wehrle park in the finest kind of shape. All this week men have been at work under direction of Ground-keeper Jack Lake, and the grounds are in "mid-season form." Today the diamond is being rolled and grass seed is being scattered in the outfield. The winter had very little effect on the grounds and by the opening game everything will be in tip top order. The fences have been repaired and Mr. Lake has guaranteed that when the umpire cries "Play ball," that no one will have any kick coming as far as his department is concerned.

ON HIS WAY.

J. D. Watts, of Columbus, is in the city arranging to open a boxing school. Watts is a former pugilist, having fought more than 100 battles with some of the best middleweight fighters in the business. He at one time held the championship of Canada, Ohio and Kentucky, having to give up the ring because of overweight. —Marion Daily Star.

Watts was in Newark for a short time and attempted to open a school for boxing. The mayor put the kibosh on his attempt to give a 30 round exhibition.

ST. PAUL IS PROUD OF TIM FLOOD.

St. Paul, Minn., March 27.—Baseball managers are common enough, but some managers happen to be of an uncommon kind. When an entire city rises up as one man and acclaims a baseball manager as its chiefest pride he is certainly different in kind from the ordinary baseball player. When it was announced that Tim Flood was to be manager of the St. Paul baseball team this year every man, woman and child in St. Paul who attends ball games at once commenced talking of the pennant Saint Paul was going to win. And all they had to go on was Tim Flood.

Flood's coming to St. Paul was one of those fortuitous accidents which make men. Flood had played ball for many years in other cities and had been a good player. But never such a player as he was after he struck St. Paul. He had been "thrown down" in the Eastern League as a "rough boy." He came to St. Paul a stranger, with but one ambition, to "make good" and "get on the map." And he did it with both feet.

We Can Demonstrate Clothes Value

If your food is adulterated the government says you have a right to know it. It would be a great thing if the law compelled clothing makers to show the quality of workmanship and materials that go into their products. For certainly you have a right to know how clothes are made that you buy.

A stylish looking suit is not always well made, for you know how easily cloth may be shrunk, or stretched with the hot flat-iron, and you ought to know, if you don't, how many clothes that are badly made are glossed over in this way.

You can't tell, yourself, that you are getting the square deal or that you are not, merely from the LOOKS of the clothes. It's the inside that counts—the workmanship in the clothes; and the intelligent thinking men of today have been educated to good clothes and want to know how they are made.

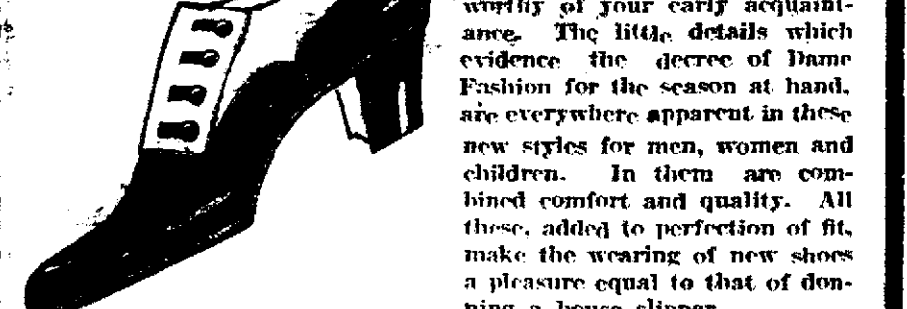

Our method of providing for this demand is to offer you the product that is known all over America for its supreme excellence of workmanship as well as design and style.

If you are a stranger to SINCERITY CLOTHES, or Clothcraft, and of numerous others of the best best manufacturer of clothing in this country, whose goods we sell, we would like you to give us the opportunity of demonstrating their value.

Spring Opening of 1908 Footwear

We welcome the advent of the spring season with an array of styles assembled from the foremost American centers that are worthy of your early acquaintance. The little details which evidence the decree of Dame Fashion for the season at hand, are everywhere apparent in these new styles for men, women and children. In them are combined comfort and quality. All these, added to perfection of fit, make the wearing of new shoes a pleasure equal to that of donning a house slipper.

CRESCENT COMEDY CO.

The Crescent comedy company is the best stock company seen at the Grand in years.—Anderson Ind., Morning Herald, Feb. 4.

Back again within a month. Company received with greater favor than before.—Anderson, Ind., Bulletin, of March ..

The Crescent comedy company is the best stock company seen at the Blinn theater yet. The fact is due to three reasons: Good plays, strong company and good specialties.—Frankfort, Ind., Morning Times, Feb. 17.

The above three press clipping tell the story. The Crescent comedy company is one of the best, if not the best, popular priced shows on the road. This fact will be demonstrated at the Auditorium all next week. Monday night "The Turn of the Dice," a thrilling melodrama. There will be matinee Wednesday and Saturday only. The Saturday matinee will be the beautiful play "The Little Kicking, squealing rat out by the tail, the leading parts.

MRS. FISKE.

"Rosmersholm," is the third play by Henrik Ibsen that Mrs. Fiske has produced. The others were "A Doll's House" and "Hedda Gabler." Mrs. Fiske appears at the Auditorium on April 7.

ORPHUM THEATER.

Increasing appreciation on the part of Newark theater goers for the splendid vaudeville entertainment that is being presented at the cozy theater has been evinced all week. That the bill has pleased goes without saying, but not even content with this the manager has listened to numerous requests and has engaged Mr. M. J. Landrum for a return date this evening. Mr. Landrum secured one of the biggest hits last Friday evening an artist on the stage. For this evening his song and jokes will all be new. Numerous other acts have been engaged for this evening, which with the regular bill consisting of Rely and charming Miss Morgan, Rismor and Mdm. Aza, Abbott and company, F. L. Perry should pack the house. The new management is certainly striving to please his patrons by giving the very best obtainable.

NEWSIES HAD "BIG TIME."

Newsies crowded the Orphum for the first performance last night and were enthusiastic in their applause of the whole bill. The boys were especially interested in Rismor and his puzzling act. Manager Lawrie, as a reception committee of one, was kept busy making the boys feel at home and enjoy themselves.

The visit to the theater was a rare treat to Newark's bunch of newsies, as their happy faces testified when they were seen leaving the show.

Arthur J. Baum, the former manager of the Orphum, who will open the Zanesville vaudeville house at that place next Monday, was the guest of Manager Lawrie last evening and seemed to enjoy the show equally as much as Manager Lawrie's young friends.

Mr. O. G. Murray, who is associated with Mr. Sun, was also in the city for a while last evening in company with manager Lawrie and Manager Baum of the Zanesville house.

SAW MME. BUTTERFLY.

A large party of Newark people who love the good in amusements, attended last night's performance of "Mme. Butterfly" at the Southern theater, Columbus, last evening. Henry W. Savage's greatest production in years, seems to be the popular verdict on this masterful cast in a masterful opera.

ALL COUNTY TREASURERS AFFECTED

Columbus, O., March 27.—Because of the discovery by the Senate investigating committee that county treasurers are paid from 50 to 75 cents per $1,000 for money delivered at the state treasurer's office, Senator Patterson today introduced a bill repealing the old section giving the state treasurer the right to make such allowance.

SLAPS ELECTRIC BELT FAKERS WHO ROB WEAK MEN.

What inspires more pity, and at the same time contempt, of fellow man, than the knowledge that a man has through folly and disease wrecked his life's happiness, and perhaps that of those bound to him by ties of love? An eminent specialist, who desires that his name be withheld for ethical reasons, states that not thousands but millions of men are "strung" by electric belt fakers, drugged and robbed by quacks and worthless patent medicines all over the civilized world. Not content with scourging the fakirs, he endeavors to end their plunder by publishing free his most successful prescription, used during a career of great success and renown in treating the fast lives of New York's millionaire money spenders and folly hunters.

As most men are ashamed of their weaknesses, he advises the ingredients be obtained separately and mixed in the privacy of home. The three main ingredients are simple though powerful and harmless concentrated extracts, put up in packages containing one ounce bottles, especially for filling prescriptions of various kinds, and the unadulterated have pure drug guarantee printed on containers.

First get fifty cents worth of "Compound Fluid Balmwort" in a one ounce package, and "three ounces syrup Sarsaparilla compound," take home, mix and let stand two hours, then get "one ounce compound essence Cadonol" and "one ounce Tincture Cadonol." Mix all in a six or eight ounce bottle, shake well and take one teaspoonful after each meal and one when retiring, followed by a drink of water.

The Old Folks' Matrimonial Exchange.

[Original.]
An elderly lady with a pair of short gray curls on each temple stepped into the private office of Philander Shanks, merchant. Mr. Shanks rose, bowed, pointed to a seat and asked her what he could do for her.

"I have come to see you, Mr. Shanks, on a very peculiar mission. I have a plan which I must preface by a bit of explanation."

The lady paused and looked as if she was hunting for some place to begin, then went on:

"There are two parts to life for those who live to be our age. The first half is entirely unlike the second. In youth we know nothing of the loneliness of old age. Many a man and woman up to forty is absorbed in that which has nothing to do with providing companionship for old age. Then perhaps suddenly a realization comes to us of the fact that we need the home. We remember the lost opportunities of youth to form a connection which would have resulted in sons and daughters growing up about us and—"

"Madam," interrupted Mr. Shanks, "you are describing me. I have built up a fortune, but have neglected to build up a home. I have reached the time when I would gladly give the fortune for the home. What is there for me when I leave this office? A miserable existence till the next morning, when I resume my duties. I dine, alone, spend a lonely evening at my club, and when I go to my desolate apartments—"

"And I," interrupted the lady—"I live in a room by myself. I manage to get along during the day, since I am interested in several charitable associations—president of one and secretary of another—but when evening comes how can I go out alone and where can I go?"

"Does your plan aim to relieve such conditions, madam?"

"It does. You have made it very easy for me to propose it. I knew you were a bachelor and past—well, past fifty."

"Fifty-five, madam."

Therefore I knew you would sympathize with me. I propose to establish an exchange for those elderly people who would like to marry, but have no one to marry. True, the major part of the deficiency we can never make up—the children. Dear little things, how I would love to have them always about me, with their funny ways, their—"

"And grown, madam. I would give my check for a million for a son to succeed me in this business."

"And if I had had children when I was from twenty to thirty I should now be petting my grandchildren. I love them best from eighteen months to four years, from the time they are learning to walk and to talk till they begin to chafe playmates."

"And think what a fine thing it is to watch them while they are being educated—the boys growing strong and manly, the girls good and beautiful."

"But we are wasting time without coming to the point. I will enter my name as the first woman charter member of the exchange. I would like you to enter yours as the first man member."

"Gladly, madam," regretfully. "We cannot, as you say, surround ourselves with families. We are too old. But we may make homes for each other. No man can make a home without a woman."

"You will need some funds, madam, first for stationery for your notices and invitations, then to secure a place for meeting. I trust you will permit me to furnish a little fund for a starter."

He took a check book from a drawer.

"What name, madam?"

"Sploney—D. A. Sploney."

"What a coincidence!" remarked Mr. Shanks, pausing in his work, laying down his pen and looking at the lady through his spectacles. "Do you know, madam, had it not been for one of those asinine conditions incident to youth I might have had a home with a lovely girl by the name of Sploney."

"We all have those memories. I once day dated in a pet with a man."

"An ass probably you mean."

"He took me to a ball. I noticed the name of a girl on his card of dances engagements who I thought was trying to get him away from me. I told him that he must either strike off that name or strike off mine for the five dances I had agreed to give him."

"Strange!" mused Mr. Shanks. "Do you know that that very same thing happened to me? A girl made the same requirement, and I drew my pencil through her own name wherever it appeared on my card. I was a fool. The fact that she wouldn't brook a rival was proof positive that she loved me."

"Nevertheless she had no right to make such a demand unless she was engaged to you."

"But for that tiff I have always believed she would have been my wife."

He handed her the check. She looked at the signature, and her eyes seemed riveted to it. Without raising them she said:

"I didn't know your first name was Phil—I mean Philander."

"It is. But why do you notice that?"

"Because"—she leaned back in her chair and covered her face with her hands—"because mine is Domida."

HORSEMEN ARE BECOMING ACTIVE

"OLD FORT" BEING PUT IN FINE
SHAPE FOR EARLY SPRING TRAINING.

Reported That There Are Some Good
Ones at the Track and Records
May be Smashed.

The "Old Fort," inside of which is located one of the very best half mile tracks in Ohio, and which is the mecca every spring for horsemen from all over this section of the country, who bring their green ones and the old timers to work them out and get them in readiness and condition for the racing season, is already beginning to take on the appearance of "something doing," and will soon be bubbling over with life after having lain dormant all winter. Burr Wilson has the track again this year and will have a gang of men at work in a few days putting the track in shape.

Among the horses that will be worked out will be the following:

"Cubanolo," the mysterious, will be tried out for all he is worth, and the indications are that he will make good this season.

Hut Hardway, with his sorrel stallion, will be one of the regulars.

"Kate Dixon," a bay pacer, with a record of 14 1-4, well known all through Central Ohio, will be given a good working on the "Moundbuilders" track.

"Vando," the princely bay stallion owned by Mr. John Swisher, will be handled by Nels Vanatta. "Vando" has a record of 24 1-2.

John Kiefer, with the stallion "Moka," and his trotting horse, will be on hand and will give his horses a good working out. Prospects are bright for both the stallion and mare.

Burr Wilson, the old timer, will be there with his string of good ones.

Amos Grove will also be at the old stand, with his bunch which are nearly all green ones. Amos hopes, however, to make a good showing.

Ben Jones and Grant Huffman will work their young Clayone stallion, recently purchased "Clayone" is a trotter, and promises to rank with the best of the young ones this season. He is pronounced by all who have seen him use his feet to be a "comer."

MOONLIGHT AT NEWARK.

Oh, Newark, Oh, Newark, so ghostly and white, asleep in the sheen of the moon's silvery light, the homes in the mystical glimmer appear, fantastical, dreamlike and otherwise queer.

But all this is changed in the sunlight of day, some of the houses you view with dismay, and the thought that at once will come to your mind, is this that these houses need paint of some kind. Of course there's no reason to say any more, Aurora Mixed Paints you can buy at the store.

Aurora Mixed Paints are manufactured by The Marietta Paint & Color Co., Marietta, Ohio, and will go father and wear longer than other paints. Sold by Newark Paint Co., 31 West Church street.

HEROIC GIRLS

WILL SUBMIT TO SURGEON'S KNIFE AND DONATE SKIN TO COMPANION.

Dr. B. F. Barnes Will Graft Number of Pieces on Body of Miss Hazel Swaney.

Out of pure regard for their injured companion, the twenty girls of the Styron-Beggs Chemical company's warehouse have agreed to submit to the surgeon's knife and donate portions of their own flesh to be grafted upon the terribly burned arms and neck of Miss Hazel Swaney, who was seriously burned in the warehouse on Wednesday, March 11, by the ignition of a tray of turpentine.

Dr. B. F. Barnes, to whose faithful attention the young woman doubtless owes her life, will probably perform the operation of grafting the flesh to the burned parts next Sunday.

Of the large number of girls employed in the chemical company's warehouse, it may be necessary to operate upon but a few. Nevertheless, all have signified their willingness to undergo this sacrifice for the aid of their companion, whose life has been despaired of several times since the dreadful accident. Now, however, she shows great improvement and her recovery will be but a comparatively few weeks distant.

Dr. Barnes, in an interview with the Advocate, stated Thursday that the operation of taking flesh from one person to be grafted upon another body, is not such a serious one as many believe. Small pieces of sensitive flesh about the size of a pea are removed and are attached to the injured member in rows. With proper care these little rows of skin knit together and finally form a perfect layer of hardy, natural flesh.

It will be remembered that the accident which nearly cost Miss Swaney her life, occurred in the warehouse while the young woman was carrying a tray of bottled turpentine. She had accidentally spilled a part of the fluid on her apron, and, as she passed a burning hot-plate the turpentine ignited. Her hair was burned all off her head, and the flesh on her face, neck and arms hung in terribly burned shreds. Charles Dunn and Stella Ramsey, both employees of the company rushed to the aid of the girl and succeeded in quenching the flames with water and by smothering, but not before burns of such a serious nature as to be nearly fatal, had occurred.

At the time of the accident, the associates of the young woman showed the wonderful regard and friendship that they possess for her, by doing all in their power to allay her suffering. When Mr. F. L. Beggs, head of the firm, dismissed the girls for the day, they left the warehouse in little groups, weeping and bemoaning the terrible fate of their companion.

Now, they offer parts of their own flesh for the physicians to use in recovering the burned tendons and muscles and the deep painful wounds left on the body of Hazel Swaney.

WOULD IMPEACH THE PRESIDENT

Minority Leader Williams Objects to His Interference With the Judiciary Committee.

Washington, March 27.—Minority Leader Williams came very near impeaching the President in the House this afternoon. He announced that if it were true as reported that the President had taken to task certain members of the judiciary committee for their official criticisms of Judge Wilfong of the United States court at Shanghai, he would introduce a resolution for a thorough investigation of "intrusion of the President on the rights of members of the House."

SCAFFOLD GIVES WAY

WELL KNOWN PAPER HANGER SUSTAINS SERIOUS INJURIES THURSDAY.

Precipitated From Scaffold to Lower Floor—Taken to Home on South Second Street.

Henry Gartner, a well known paper hanger of this city, had the misfortune to meet with an accident on Thursday afternoon which resulted in painful and serious injuries. He was engaged in papering a hallway at the residence of Mr. James Conners in the East End, and was standing on a scaffold on the second floor at the head of the stairs, when the scaffold broke and he was thrown down to the first floor. He was badly injured about the head and breast, and it is thought that he also sustained internal injuries. A physician was called and attended him after which he was removed to his home on South Second Street.

HINTS ON ROAD WORK

U. S. OFFICE OF PUBLIC ROADS TELLS HOW TO MAKE MODEL EARTH ROAD.

The Plow, the Drag Scraper, the Road Grader, and the Split Log Drag are Overseer's Friends.

While American road builders are as capable of constructing good roads as those of any country of the old world, they have not been as loyally supported as the men of these countries in maintaining the highways after completion, and the deplorable state of many hundred thousand miles of road is thus accounted for. County and township officials may at the outset stand the expense of having a road built, but they strenuously object when asked to provide funds to rebuild the road that has been allowed to go to ruin.

It is important that farmers learn of the benefits to be derived from good earth roads; that county boards be impressed with the need of a proper maintenance of the same, and that road builders and overseers learn how best to care for the roads in their charge.

The persistent and powerful enemies of earth roads are water and narrow tires, and the constant effort of the men in charge of the roads should be to guard against their destructive effects and remedy all damage as quickly as possible. The simple implements which have been found to be of greatest assistance in this work are the plow, the drag scraper, the wheel scraper, the road grader, and the split-log drag.

With a sandy soil and a subsoil of clay, or clay and gravel, deep plowing so as to raise and mix the clay with the surface soil and sand will prove beneficial. The combination forms a sand clay road at trifling expense. On the other hand, if the road be entirely of sand a mistake will be made if it is plowed unless clay can be added. Such plowing would merely deepen the sand, and at the same time break up the small amount of hard surface material which may have formed. If the subsoil is clay and the surface scant in sand or gravel, plowing should not be resorted to, as it would result in a clay surface rather than one of sand or gravel. A road foreman must know not only what to plow and what not to plow, but how and when to plow. If the road is of the kind which according to the above instructions should be plowed over its whole width, the best method is to run the first furrow in the middle of the road and work out to the sides, thus forming a crown. Results from such plowing are greatest in the spring or early summer.

In ditches a plow can be used to good advantage, but should be followed by a scraper or grader. To make wide, deep ditches nothing better than the ordinary drag scraper has yet been devised. For hauls under 100 feet, or in making "fills," it is especially serviceable. It is a mistake, however, to attempt to handle long haul material with this scraper, as the wheel scraper is better adapted to such work. For hauls of more than 800 feet, a wagon should be used.

The machine most generally used in road work is the grader, or road machine. This machine is especially useful in smoothing and crowning the road and in opening ditches. A clay subsoil under a thin coating of soil should not be disturbed with a grader. It is also a mistake to use a grader indiscriminately and to pull material from ditches upon a sand-clay road. Not infrequently turf, soil and silt from ditch bottoms are piled in the middle of the road in a ridge, making mudholes a certainty. It is important in using a grader to avoid building up the road too much at one time. A road gradually built up by frequent use of the grader will last better than if completed at one operation. The foreman frequently thinks his road must be high in the first instance. He piles up material from 10 inches to a foot in depth, only to learn, with the arrival of the first rain, that he has furnished the material for as many inches of mud. All material should be brought up in thin layers, each layer well puddled and firmly packed by roller or traffic before the next is added. A common mistake is to crown too high with the road machine on a narrow road.

The split log drag should be used to fill in ruts and smooth the road when not too badly washed. The drag possesses great merit and is so simple in construction and operation that every farmer should have one.

DENISON STUDENTS PUNISH A GRANVILLE YOUTH FOR CAUSING DISTURBANCE.

New Grand Stand to be Built on Beaver Field—Interesting News From Granville.

Granville, March 27.—Rodney McCullom, a well known town boy, was taken to the Raccoon creek Thursday evening and given an impromptu bath by the student body of Denison. This was the punishment which was meted out to McCullom for causing a disturbance in the Town Hall Thursday evening while the Irving-Cicero contest was in progress. McCullom was charged with blowing snuff into the audience room, causing much sneezing and coughing, which, for a time, threatened to break up the contest. He was captured at Ullman's drug store, taken to the creek where he pleaded guilty to the charge and threw himself on the mercy of his accusers. He was given a ducking and warned to behave himself in the future. Over one hundred students participated in the affair.

Among the distinguished visitors to the Ministers' Conference to be held here next week will be Rev. John F. Herget, pastor of the Ninth Street Baptist church, Cincinnati. Mr. Herget was a St. Louis boy, educated at William Jewell College and Rochester Theological Seminary and now has the largest Baptist church in Ohio. He will be the guest of Mr. George E. Stevens.

Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Pound of Urbana, O., who have been visiting relatives and friends in Granville and vicinity for the past two weeks, have returned home, after having had a most enjoyable visit.

Miss Ella Owens has gone to her home in Dayton.

A new grand stand, to take the place of the one destroyed by fire some time ago, on Beaver Field, is to be built at once. The contract has been let to Charles Robinson. In many respects the grand stand will be similar to the old one, six seats high. It is to be finished by April 18 when the first game between the Mutes and Denison will be played.

Dr. E. W. Hunt, president of Denison university, is in Cleveland, attending the banquet given by the friends and alumni of Denison. Dr. Hunt is on the program to respond to a toast.

A great many of the students left today for their homes to spend the spring vacation.

Mrs. Henry Miller and little daughter Mary, who have been visiting here for several days, have returned home.

Cliff Lewis of Ullman's drug store, went to Columbus to undergo an operation at one of the hospitals there. Cliff severely strained himself some months ago lifting a stove.

NOT DISCOURAGED

Pataskala People Will Continue Boring for Gas and Company Being Formed for that Purpose.

(Pataskala Standard)

It seems the quest for gas and oil in this neighborhood is pretty much like Banquo's ghost, it will not down. There are those who believe, notwithstanding the discouraging results of former efforts that there is oil in the neighborhood, and a movement is now under way looking to the formation of another company whose purpose will be to go after gas or oil.

Mr. C. W. Ricketts, of Bremen, who is building the new school and auditorium here, is in charge of the undertaking and is a firm believer in the theory that oil will be found here in paying quantities.

Land is already being leased and it is hoped to secure sufficient territory to begin immediate operations.

A FAREWELL SURPRISE

A number of friends and neighbors gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Thomas, March 21, and gave them a farewell surprise, as they are going to move out of the neighborhood after living there for seven years. The door was opened and in rushed about thirty-one friends with well filled baskets before the members of the family were aware of anything unusual going on.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Montgomery, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Evans, Mr. and Mrs. Frank De France, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Bowlby, Mr. and Mrs. John Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Parry, Mr. and Mrs. William Grooms, Mr. and Mrs. Elind

YANKTON'S SEARCH PARTY LOOKING FOR MISSING AMERICAN SAILOR FRED JEFFS.

SEARCH PARTY ON THE BEACH, INDEPENDENT ISLAND

SEARCH PARTY ABOUT TO LAND ON INDEPENDENT ISLAND

Acapulco, Mexico.—The United States gunboat, Yankton, tender to the Atlantic battleship fleet, was sent from Callao to the Galapagos islands to search for a missing American sailor, one Fred Jeffs.

The information furnished was of the most meager description, only that Jeffs was a member of the crew of the Norwegian bark Alexandra, wrecked in the Galapagos in May 1907; that he separated from his companions on Independent island and that when they were rescued in October of the same year at a place called Puerto Aguado, given as in latitude 45 min south, longitude 90 degrees, 20 min 30 sec west. Jeffs was not with them. He had, therefore, been nearly a year on Independent island, if alive.

In order if possible to gain information about the wreck, Chatham island, where there is a settlement, was first visited. Anchoring in Wreck bay, a messenger on horseback was found waiting on the beach with the compliments of the local authorities, the "administrador," and a polite inquiry if any assistance could be furnished. The vessel had been seen approaching from the town, which is located high up in the mountain and five miles from the landing. The presence of a ship is most rare and a hospitable invitation to visit the bay was had to be declined, as time pressed.

The inhabitants of the islands number about 350, all dependents of a single estate and mostly engaged in the cultivation of sugar, cotton and tobacco. The estate lies in the hills and valleys of the southern slope of the island in the only place where water is obtainable.

Two guides sent by the administrator arrived on board the Yankton at daylight and the course was shaped for Independent island, 35 miles distant. The story of the wreck, as told by the guides, was interesting. Their information was from a part of the crew which had landed on Chatham island and from the captain of the island schooner, who had heard the wrecked captain's story at Guayaquil. The bark was becalmed near Albermarle island and swept by the strong current found in the islands, ashore under a cliff, where she soon went to pieces.

The crew escaped in two boats, one with ten men, the other with the captain and seven men. During the night the boats became separated, the boat with the ten men reaching Hood island, and then seeing Chatham island in the distance, reached it, found it uninhabited and told their story. The administrator forwarded them by the island schooner to Guayaquil with a letter to the consul.

The captain's boat of which Jeffs was a member reached uninhabited Independent island where it was smashed on a reef while making a landing. This second disaster separated the party from all communication with the outside world, as wood to build another boat was lacking.

The party, finding only a few springs of brackish water near the beach, began a search for a better camping place and abandoning their first camp, they moved to the place called by the natives Puerto Aguado, but not marked in any way on the chart. It was at this time that the separation from Jeff took place.

According to the message received from the consul at Guayaquil the captain of the wrecked bark said Jeffs preferred to loaf, and though they tried to persuade him to go with them, he refused, saying that the chances were as good one place as another, and he was going to stay where he was. The story as heard from the guides was that he was sick and could not follow, and the other left him.

Colds Are Always Dangerous

It's easy to catch a cold at any season, and hard to get rid of it unless you treat it in time with

DR. D. JAYNE'S EXPECTORANT

Upon the first sign of a cough or congested cold, go to your druggist and get a bottle of this remedy—the oldest and most reliable known—for Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Pleurisy, Inflammation of the Lungs, and similar diseases. In countless numbers of homes this has been a standard remedy for 77 years.

All druggists sell it in $1.00, 50c. and 25c. bottles.

Jayne's Tonic Vermifuge is a splendid tonic for adults as well as a safe Worm Cure for children.

Severe Pains

When a prominent nerve is affected, the pain is severe. It is called neuralgia. It may be in either the head or body. Relief comes only when this nerve trouble is overcome. By its soothing and strengthening influence upon the nervous system Dr. Miles' Nervine removes the cause.

"It was about two years ago that I was taken down with what the doctors claimed was neuralgia, and some called it lightning rheumatism. Sharp pains would go from one place to another, mostly in my head, and they would last two or three days before I could get relief. During these spells I would be so nervous that I hardly knew what I was doing. The pains were so severe and exhausting that my husband would have to steady me when walking across the room. I would have fever, and my heart would palpitate, and in a day or two I would feel better. Just as soon as I would expose myself the very least I was sure to have a spell of neuralgia. I have taken lots of doctor's medicine, but I might just as well take water. My aunt kept writing me to just try Dr. Miles' Nervine, and I am thankful that I was persuaded to do so, for the Nervine has cured me—has driven it out of my system."

MRS. H. C. DIXON,

DRAWN FROM A PHOTOGRAPH BY WM. HENRY

The above copyrighted picture of Grover Cleveland, former president of the United States, was done in crayon, by E. V. Nadnerhny, from probably the best photograph ever taken of the statesman. This picture was secured by Mr. William Henry, the dean of the New York Herald's staff of photographers, and the Advocate publishes same through its connection with the New York Herald Syndicate. Mr. Henry has probably taken more photographs of prominent people for newspapers than any other photographer in America. This remarkable photograph of the former president attracted a great deal of attention throughout the country.

NEW SKIN REMEDY

Creates Big Stir; Drug Stores Crowded With Sufferers.

For several weeks past Frank D. Hall's and other leading drug stores in this city have been crowded with persons desiring a supply of poslam, the new cure for eczema. This is the drug which has created such a stir throughout the country since its discovery one year ago.

For the convenience of those who use poslam for pimples, blackheads, blotches, red nose, acne, herpes and other minor skin troubles, a special 50-cent package has been adopted, in addition to the regular two-dollar jar, which is now on sale at all leading drug stores.

In eczema cases, poslam stops the itching with first application and proceeds to heal, curing chronic cases in two weeks. In minor skin troubles, results show after an overnight application. For a free experimental sample, write direct to the Emergency Laboratories, 32 West Twenty-fifth street, New York City.

Why 96 Hours?

It requires 96 hours to turn white wheat into Mapl-Flake. Yet flaked foods can be made in one-fourth of that time. Why do we employ so expensive a process?

Simply to make every atom digestible—to create a food that's all food.

Wheat is largely starch. And starch, to be digestible, must be made soluble. The particles of the starch must be separated so the digestive juices can get to them.

To break up the starch granules requires a high heat, long continued. With half-way methods, only half the starch will digest. The balance ferments and breeds germs in the stomach.

Our wheat is steam-cooked for six hours, then cured. Then each separate berry is flaked so thin that the full heat of our ovens attacks every atom. Then the flakes are toasted, for 30 minutes, in a heat of 400 degrees.

We do that because we know it is necessary. We aim at a perfect food, not a cheap food. For the cheapest food, after all, is the food that supplies the most nourishment.

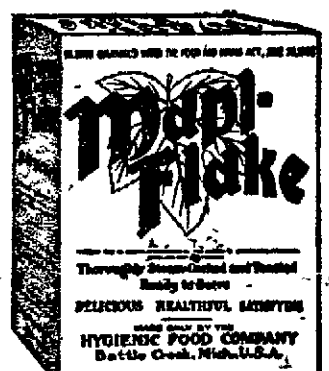

Mapl-Flake is cooked in pure maple syrup. The reason for that is—deliciousness.

Children like maple sugar better than anything else that is good for them. And this is the children's food.

The price is 15 cents per package. It requires no more cream than a 10-cent food, so the real difference in cost is a trifle. The difference in food value is greater by far.

So don't go without the food that you like best—the food with the maple flavor. For Mapl-Flake costs less than cheap foods when you measure by nourishment.

The only food served in individual packages in hotels, clubs, cafes, and on dining cars.

Between Those Who Have Saved

And Those Who Have Squandered the Great Difference
Becomes Particularly Manifest When Even a Short Period of Hard Times Set In.

If wages are cut, the man who has saved steadily may not be able to add to his savings during such a period, but he will have the satisfaction of knowing that what he has saved is steadily earning something.

If the working force be reduced, the saver is much less likely to be laid off than is the spender. In most cases he has proven himself the most reliable workman.

If the mills close down and all are alike out of work, the saver has his savings to draw upon until work is resumed. But the man who has spent his all as he went along—what has he for such emergencies? Or for sickness? Or for old age?

For the young man who is earning and not saving it is time to think, and to think real hard.

Reversing a Decision.

By EDITH MELNO.

Copyrighted, 1907, by C. H. Sutcliffe.

Thomas Henderson Howie stepped grandly from the elevator, rather resentful of the elevator boy's patronizing pat on the head. Men who came downtown on business should not be patted on the head even if their curlics do possess foolish ideas that curls are cute. Men on business bent always act importantly and should be treated with deference.

The pat had the effect of stiffening Thomas Henderson Howie's small backbone to an unusual degree of ramrod stiffness, and it was a very pompous six-year-old who entered Dorrington's office.

Tim Dorrington looked up from a pile of papers with a genial smile. "Welcome to our city, Mr. Thomas Henderson Howie," he cried. "And what good fortune brings you to the office? Surely you are not about to be sued for breach of promise? I am afraid of that little Houston girl, or perhaps it is the embezzlement of preserves again?"

"It's a letter," explained Tommy stiffly, as he delivered the square white envelope into Tim's trembling hands. "I will be going now," he added as he turned away. Tim raised his hand.

"Wait a moment, please," he asked. "There may be an answer."

Tommy climbed into the biggest chair and settled himself with quaint, old-fashioned gravity, while Dorrington opened and read the note. Twice the man read it, though the first time the words had seared themselves into his brain.

It was a cold, almost curt note in which Jessie Howie acknowledged the honor he had done her in offering to make her his wife, an honor she declined, regretting that there had been anything in their friendship to lead him to believe that the friendship might grow to greater intimacy.

Dorrington smiled bitterly as he read the last few lines. Surely he had had every reason to hope for a favorable answer to his letter. Jessie had been tenderness itself. With a sigh he thrust the letter into his pocket and turned to his small visitor.

"I regret, Thomas Henderson Howie," he said in the playful banter that had been suggested by the child's quaint dignity—"I regret that my pleasurable anticipations of a wild dissipation in soda water and candy in celebration of an important event have been dashed to earth. But man turns to drink both to express his joy and drown his sorrows. Therefore I pray you to descend with me to the drug store on the ground floor and assist me in the latter ceremony. They have hot chocolate with whipped cream."

"No, thank you," said Tommy politely. "I don't want any soda."

"Perhaps you prefer the stronger tippie of beef tea?" suggested Dorrington. "It is a cup that cheers without inebriety and can be rendered quite palatable if you use enough celery salt to disguise the flavor of the beef extract. Shall we go?"

"I don't want to go with you," said Tommy stolidly. "I don't like you any more. You make Jessie cry."

"That," said Tom, "is what they call an inversion of facts. Your sister has made me cry."

"I'm glad of it," said Tommy cruelly. "You made her cry lots."

"You are sure?" asked Dorrington quickly. "She was crying over my letter?"

"Lots," declared Tommy with a sweeping gesture that suggested a very flood of tears. "I went to her room to get her to sew the tail on my dog again. She was crying awfully, and she was kissing your letter and saying things."

Dorrington moved closer to the boy. "You don't remember what she said, do you?" he pleaded gently. "See if you can't think, Tommy, boy. Try hard, liddle."

Thomas Henderson Howie knitted his brows thoughtfully and assisted the mental process by solemnly wriggling his right foot.

"It was something about a mean sacrifice," he said at last. "Sacrifices," he added informatively, "is where the Indians kill people and burn 'em up."

"The operation is bloodless and the fires are internal nowadays," said Dorrington softly. "What else did she say?"

"She said 'How can I do it?' and then she cried some more," continued Tommy. "Then there was something about for father's sake, and mother came in and said something about duty and then something about Mr. Bowen, and Jessie cried lots more, and then she wrote the letter, and she gave me a penny for myself and kissed me."

For a moment Dorrington sat stunned. He had invested heavily in suburban real estate, and much of his capital was tied up in land, but Dorrington had not guessed that Mr. Howie's need was so great that he had been compelled to go to Bowen.

For nearly a year Cyrus Bowen had fought to make Jessie the fourth Mrs. Bowen. Mrs. Howie had favored his suit, for the matron was ambitious for her daughter, but it must have been dire need that caused blunt Henry Howie to add his influence. Dorrington turned to Tommy.

Thomas Henderson Howie," he said quietly, "I pledge you the word of one man to another that I did not make Jessie cry. Will you mind the office a moment?"

He swung the youngster into the big chair before the roll top desk, supplied him with a pencil and pad and slipped from the room. It was less than a block to the office building in which Henry Howie had his suit, and shortly Dorrington entered the private office of the operator.

"You will pardon my abruptness," began Tom, "but I have just had a letter from Jessie refusing an offer of marriage. From what Tommy says I imagine that her refusal is influenced by the fact that you need Bowen's assistance, and she is the bonus for the loan. Am I right?"

For a moment Henry Howie's hands clinched and unclenched themselves nervously. The blunt statement of facts roused him to anger, but the white, tense face of the man before him restrained him from picking Tommy out of the office as he longed to do. He liked Tim, and it hurt him to give pain to the young fellow.

"You are not entirely correct in your premises," he said at length. "I believe that Jessie does contemplate marriage with Mr. Bowen. Bowen has promised to come to my aid in an extremity. That Deepdale tract has been a heavy burden to me. Bowen will take it at what I paid and pay cash. This will enable me to save other investments. Naturally Jessie is grateful to the friend who has come to my rescue and looks with favor upon his suit. I tell you this that you may understand. Of course it will go no further."

"I thank you for your confidence, which will be respected. But I want to ask what you are getting for your Deepdale holdings."

Howie looked at the younger man in surprise. "I presume that you have a reason for asking," he said. "The sum is $10,000. That is $200 more than I gave for the land."

"Bowen is generous in the extreme," said Dorrington, with a sneer. "No doubt you are aware that the Central and Suburban plans a cutoff to the main line that strikes the property? That will be better than the trolley which was not built. I am junior counsel for the road, and I know that Bowen has known this for two weeks."

For a moment Howie shrunk back, stunned at the treachery of his fancied benefactor. Bowen would make a handsome profit from his supposed charitable action.

"I suppose this is the reason you seek Jessie's hand," sneered the elder man, stung to a retort as an outlet to his feelings.

"Not at all," said Dorrington calmly. "My reason for speaking now is that they purchased my old homestead for a model town. They are to build their shops there. I had not thought of your holdings. Do you want a loan?"

Twenty minutes later Dorrington burst into his own office.

"Tommy—boy," he cried, "for your great services let us get souped on soda and then buy out a candy store and take it up to Jessie. You've enabled me to beat Bowen at his own game and wipe Jessie's tears away. 'Souped' is a vulgar word, Tommy, boy, but it's expressive of my feelings, and to your uncanny powers of observation I owe the fact that I've reversed the decision."

How to Brighten a Dark Room.

No one wants a gloomy room, but what to do with such a room is a problem that has bothered more than one. Many a woman has foregone inside curtains and even sash curtains to allow all the light possible to come into the room, but still it looks dreary. It is not so much the light that one needs as the sunshine, and when this cannot be had one must make it, or, rather, get the effect of it, says the Chicago News. A room with a northern aspect should not, of course, be papered in blue or some such cold color, but rather in rich warm tones of olive green, brown, red or yellow. If the room gets but little light and sunshine, yellow should be the choice. Not only should there be yellow on the walls, but also on the ceiling, for the sake of reflection. A pretty treatment is to have a light pumpkin yellow on the walls as far as the picture molding and a lighter shade above this and on the ceiling. Then yellow silk sash curtains, pulled back, tend to make a room sunny.

PECULIAR PROPERTIES OF NEW MEDICINE

Cooper Preparation Attracts Widespread Attention by Expelling Internal Parasites.

The interest created in leading cities during the past year by young Mr. Cooper with his new preparation, is largely accounted for by a peculiar quality possessed by this medicine, which he calls his New Discovery. Mr. Cooper believes that internal parasites, or tapeworms, are responsible for much ill health, and it is an undoubted fact that his medicine has expelled immense numbers of these creatures in various cities visited by him. The young man also believes that stomach trouble is the main cause of all ill health. He claims that few can have poor health with a good digestion. He further claims that his New Discovery medicine does nothing but tone up the stomach, yet it not only expels the parasites, but relieves many other ailments not as a rule associated with stomach trouble.

Little Jessie Birdsell, daughter of Mrs. Ida Birdsell, living at 2138 Carroll Avenue, Chicago, is among many relieved of a large parasite by Mr. Cooper's preparation during his stay in that city. In speaking of the matter to Mr. Cooper, the mother said: "My child Jessie, who is fourteen years old, has been suffering with this trouble for over seven years. Until this morning we did not know what the trouble was. She was extremely nervous; the least little thing would upset her; her tongue was coated, at times she would have a good appetite, then again could not bear the sight of food; she was restless at night, had a bad breath, especially when she got up of mornings. We tried everything to relieve her, but met with no success. We were just on the point of giving up trying anything else, when we began to read of Cooper's New Discovery. Several days ago we purchased this medicine. Jessie has been using it regularly, and this morning this parasite left her system. I don't wonder that she has always felt bad, and nothing we would give her seemed to relieve her. Now that she is relieved of this tapeworm I feel sure that she will grow better each day, and enjoy perfect health. Mr. Cooper, your medicine is worth a thousand times more than you charge for it. I know of a number of people troubled the same way as Jessie has been, and I certainly expect to tell them personally to try your medicine."

We would advise anyone who has been troubled for some time with general poor health to try this great medicine. We are agent for it in this city. —City Drug Store.

FAKER

WORKING MERCHANTS ON ADVERTISING SCHEME, USING SOCIETY'S NAME.

Management Would Like to Locate Him So That He Could Be Arrested.

Officers of the Ladies Home missionary society of the First M. E. church, have reported the discovery of a trickster who is soliciting "program advertising" and collecting money on it under the pretense that he is connected with the production of "The Mistletoe Bough," which is to be given tomorrow night.

The members of the society, and Mr. S. C. Stearns, who is producing the entertainment here for the Mistletoe Lyceum Bureau, are desirous of obtaining a description of the person who is soliciting "cash on advertising" in the name of the society, in order that the matter may receive the prompt attention of the police department. Any such description left at the Advocate office will be turned over to the chief of police for investigation.

Just how many local merchants have been held up by the scheme is not learned, but it is known that the trickster has been at work for the past two or three days. Mr. Stearns stated Friday that he has the sole management of this entertainment and that there are no other persons connected with him in any way, and that there is no program advertising to be solicited as the society depends solely upon the sale of tickets for its funds.

A goodly number of tickets have been sold and a delightful entertainment is promised those who attend, day night.

UP HIS TROUSERS

The Rat Ran and Gave Fred Lenox the Scare of His Life—Rodent Still at Large.

While trying to capture a rat that was in an open sidewalk drain, in front of the Murphy grocery on West Main street, Thursday night, Fred Lenox, a clerk, had the scare of his life. Lenox was crouched at one end of the drain, when the rodent gave a bound, landed on Lenox's foot, and quicker than the man could think, wended its way, wriggling and squirming, up his trouser leg. Lenox gave a gasp, made a grab at the rat and found to his horror that it had wriggled over to another side of his anatomy. With a last desperate effort the man passed his hand in the top of his trousers and pulled the kicking, squalling rat out by the tail. The rat ran. Lenox couldn't.

NAVAL EXPERTS SEND REPORTS

MAKE PRACTICAL TESTS FOR NAVY DEPARTMENT DURING PACIFIC TRIP.

Admiral Evans Supplements Report
With Various Comments and Conclusions.

Washington, March 27.—"There were many times during the voyage when the portion of the ships below the armor belt was exposed. Transient weather prevailed during the latter part of the trip."

The above statements contain the essence of a report which has reached the navy department from one of the naval constructors who accompanied the battleship fleet on the long run from Hampton Roads to Magdalen Bay.

Three constructors in all were sent along to observe the general behavior of the vessels from the naval standpoint, as the department was anxious to obtain full information from experts on this subject.

Admiral Evans has supplemented the report with various comments and conclusions. The quoted statement in the report is interesting in view of the vexed question of the proper location of the armor belt on naval vessels, it being the contention of some naval experts that its present position is the correct one, and by others that the armor belt should be higher.

W. B. REED WRITES FROM PACIFIC OCEAN

Newark Boy Who is on Kearsarge, Sends a Letter Home—He Likes the Navy.

Mr. Edward E. Kimble, 76 Columbia street, has just received the following letter from his nephew, W. B. Reed, of Jefferson street, who enlisted in the United States Navy last October and was assigned to the Kearsarge battleship, one of "Fighting Bob" Evans' fleet that was sent around the Horn to the Pacific ocean. The young man's letter written at sea Feb. 14 says:

"I am out on the Pacific ocean at this writing speeding on to Callao, Peru. We went into Valparaiso, Chile, and visited the President of Chile. Valparaiso is a large city and an awfully busy seaport. The harbor was full of merchant ships. They have steam trains and electric street cars there, and they look about like ours, too. There is a large point at the mouth of the harbor and the Chileans had a large flowerbed on it and the word 'Welcome' spelled in flowers. We did not stop there at all—just slowed up to three knots and passed in review. Up at Punta Arenas the Chilean cruiser gave a ball to the fleet and when we started out they started with us and went with us to Valparaiso, and on the way we met three of their torpedo boat destroyers.

"I would have given anything if you could have been with us going through the Straits of Magellan, as the scenery could not be beat. The Straits in some places was only two miles wide, and we got a good view of the mountains along the shore and saw the wrecks of a large liner.

"The Pacific ocean is no rougher than Buckeye Lake today and it certainly looks grand. We had some pictures taken today of the crew of the four guns in the forward turret and we got our division officers in it, too. We have fine officers in our division. We can load a car in the 13-inch handling room that I am in in one second and one-fifth. That is going some. The Kearsarge has a fine 'great gun' crew. They won first class prize money at target practice in Cape Cod bay by firing all four of her forward guns at the same time and making all four shots hit. I take care of the car that hoists all the powder and shells up from the handling room to her turret. I can crawl over the breach of the gun I am on with ease. If Japan wants war I guess she can get all she wants from us.

"On our way from Punta Arenas to Valparaiso we met the U. S. cruiser Chicago, bound for Norfolk, Va. She had been on this side for three years. I have a piece of Chilean money for you and will send it at Callao with some Peru money and stamps. I have a piece of money from Port of Spain, Trinidad, Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, Punta Arenas, Chile and Maracaibo, Costa Rica, and want to get some of Callao. I have some cards from Trinidad for you but will not send them till we reach the States.

"The uniform was changed today from blue to white, as we are going to cross the line again and it will be hot. I saw about a dozen whales yesterday spouting water up in the air and one was close to us. He looked like a submarine boat. We are following the coast now and see land every once in a while. I haven't been seasick yet and am beginning to like the navy pretty well. I am in the life boat now and have a good job. I only do about six hours work in

24. How would you like to be the "man of warman?" Well, I will knock off and finish this at Callao. Good bye.

W. B. REED.

MAY SEEK NOMINATION FOR THE PRESIDENCY.

New York, March 27.—Judge Geo. Gray of Delaware, will be placed actively in the field for the Democratic presidential nomination in a short time. Several conferences have been held in this city during the last few days by Democrats of prominence who regard Judge Gray as the logical candidate to unite all factions in his party. His son has been in the city recently and has met some of the local leaders.

It cannot be asserted positively how Judge Gray will announce his candidacy, although it was rumored that he might do so in a public speech. He has been urged to come out openly as a competitor of William J. Bryan and Governor Johnson, of Minnesota, and a systematic and vigorous campaign will be waged to make him the choice of the Denver convention.

HUNGRY AS A BEAR AND CAN'T EAT

II. When Mealtime Comes, You Suffer
From a Yes-Not Kind of Hunger,
You're a Dyspeptic.

How to Cure All Stomach Troubles.

A good many people get mad when you tell them they've got dyspepsia, but way down deep in their stomachs they know they've got it.

"I'd love to eat it, but I can't," is one kind of dyspepsia.

"I hate to think of it," is another kind. There are thousands of people today who hate their meals, and they love them at the same time. They haven't that fine empty-hungry eat-everything-in-sight kind of feeling which goes with every good strong healthy stomach. That's because they have dyspepsia. And then there are others whose mouths don't water at meal time or at any other time. They sit at the table and go through the motions, only because it's time to eat. These people, too, are dyspeptics.

Every possible kind of stomach trouble can be cured by taking something which will just take right hold of all the food in your stomach, and digest it alone without the help of the stomach, and let the stomach take a rest.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets do this very thing. They are composed of the best digestive known to science, and are absolutely safe. One ingredient alone of one of these tablets will digest 3,000 grains of food! These tablets do exactly the work that a good strong healthy stomach does.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets cure all cases of dyspepsia, indigestion, burning or irritation, loss of appetite, bloating, brash, belching, aversion to food, fermentation and gas on the stomach.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will make you feel "good" before and after each meal, and make your stomach strong and healthy again. They will make you happy.

Send us your name and address today and we will at once send you by mail a sample package, free. Address F. A. Stuart Co., 150 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are sold at every drug store for 50c a box.

POSTMASTER GENERAL ISSUES
ORDERS AGAINST ANARCHIST PUBLICATION.

Lauded Assassination of McKinley and Glorified in Death of King of Portugal.

Washington, March 27.—Postmaster General Meyer Thursday signed an order annulling the second-class privileges granted in 1905 to La Quistione Sociale, the anarchist publication issued in Patterson, N. J., barring it from the mails in any form.

The action followed a hearing held yesterday before Assistant Postmaster General Lawsh, in which Editor Ludovico Caminita admitted his responsibility for the matter appearing in the publication.

For several days the postoffice department has had translators at work and among the articles was one lauding the assassination of President McKinley and commending in unprintably vulgar way on the sympathy expressed for President McKinley.

The paper glorified in the recent death of the king of Portugal and alluded to the dead king as a "hoglike mass of flesh."

DR. J. A. LEONARD

Prominent Speaker on the Boy Problem Here Sunday—There Will be Splendid Music.

Dr. J. A. Leonard, superintendent of the Ohio State Reformatory at Mansfield, will speak at the Y. M. C. A. next Sunday on the Boy Problem using the theme "Why These Broken Vessels." Dr. Leonard is said to be one of the best speakers to be found anywhere and as head of this noted state institution he no doubt has many interesting stories to tell of the wayward boys under his care.

On account of the general interest in this subject the committee in charge of these Sunday afternoon meetings have decided to invite both men and women to this meeting. Where possible the women are asked to come with an escort so the audience may be fairly divided.

Miss Mabel Phillips will sing and there will be another of the splendid sacred concerts by the Auditorium orchestra beginning at 2:45 p. m. No children under fifteen allowed.

RAILWAY AFFAIRS

Another Decrease Shown.

Another decrease of idle cars is shown in a bulletin issued by the car efficiency committee of the American Railway association. According to the bulletin there is a reduction of 7,521 cars between February 19 and March 4, and a total decrease since February 5, of 28,936 cars or 8.1 per cent. The total surplus is now 314,992.

The traffic at the railroads seems to be slightly increasing, especially in the passenger trade. The freight business is not overcrowded, but just at present there is considerable coal being shipped. On account of the recent rumors of the miners going on a strike, the consumers are stocking up with fuel for fear that it will be scarce in case the miners quit the mines.

The Great Northern has just ordered 60,000 tons of steel rails. It is thought that the greater part will be used for the completion of the line between Billings and Northern Montana. The Northern Pacific has just ordered 200 refrigerator cars.

The district composed of Ohio, Indiana and Michigan reported a decrease in the number of idle freight cars from 98,429 on January 22, to 89,602 on February 19. The decrease is becoming more rapid and the railroad men are feeling much encouraged.

The Santa Fe has sent in a contribution of $15,000 to the plague fund, which the citizens' health committee of San Francisco is raising to exterminate rats, make the city sanitary and prevent the spread of contagion. Word has been received that E. H.

Harriman has authorized a contribution of $30,000.

The Illinois Central traffic department says that loading on home rails almost equals a year ago, but there is a much larger percentage of low-grade freight which makes revenue less. There are between 3,000 and 4,000 idle cars on the system, including a great many in bad order.

Central passenger lines are to meet in Chicago to consider the proposed reductions in fares for conventions and other special events on the basis of 1 1-2 cents per mile. For nearly two years such reductions have not been granted, but the slump in travel is likely to restore them. Summer tourist rates also are likely to be granted.

Every division of the B. & O. railroad between New York and Chicago will be affected by a readjustment of passenger schedules which will be decided upon at a meeting of the officials of the system in Pittsburgh on April 1. Frank P. Copper, district passenger agent of the road in Columbus, will represent this district at the meeting.

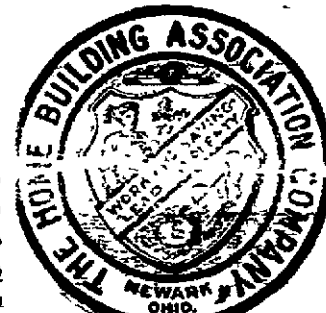

Removing Cinders from Eye. A simple remedy for removing cinders from the eye is to dip a small and perfectly clean camel's hair brush in water and pass it over the ball of the eye. This operation requires little skill and generally removes all particles of dust instantly without danger of inflammation. Of course, this remedy is not suggested for the train, where no one could get the brush.
